Gang Convention Probe Hits Snag in New York

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Legislative probe into the activities of mobsters turned to their last half-dozen witnesses today still mired in their effort to pry the lid off that puzzling gangland convention at Apalachin.

The way the boys tell it—those who don't take the Fifth Amendment—it was sheer coincidence that 60 big-time mobsters and their pals dropped in on bottle Joseph Barbara the same day, Nov. 14.

The 15 convention delegates hauled before the watchdog committee so far have pleaded either the Fifth or wide-eyed innocence.

Among the latter was John C. Montana, Buffalo liquor and taxi-cab baron, who proudly told the committee he had dined with Gov. Averell Harriman—he and—know Vice President Nixon "very well."

A Harriman aide said Montana had been invited to dine with the governor because he was a prominent Italian-American and an up-state Republican. The occasion was a luncheon for visiting Italian Premier Scelba April 2, 1955, the aide said.

Nixon said through aides in Washington that he had no recollection of having met Montana. The aides said Nixon had met many persons on campaign trips.

Up for questioning today were: Patsy and Sam Monachino and Patsy Sciorriano, all from Auburn; Patsy Turrigiano, of Endicott; Joseph Magliocci, East Islip, L.I.; and Frank Garafolo and Salvatore Tornatore, both from New York City.

All were on hand for the Apalachin powwow except Garafolo, who, police say, participated in a smaller huddle hosted by Barbara in a hotel at nearby Binghamton in October, 1956.

Committee Chairman William Horan, a Republican assemblyman from Tuckahoe, said he would wind up this phase of the public hearing today and resume at the state capitol on Jan. 8. Some of the boys will get a second shot in the witness chair.

Editor of a New York Paper Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Lowell Limpus, 60, on the editorial staff of the New York Daily News for 33 years, died yesterday of natural causes in his Manhattan apartment. He left behind his own obituary, found in a sealed envelope and marked "Hold for Release."

"Explained the document: 'This is the last of the 8,700 or more stories I've written to appear in the news.' It's an exclusive, too."

Limpus joined the News in 1924 and served as reporter, copy editor, night city editor, feature writer, political writer and war correspondent. He also was the author of several books.

His obituary read in part: "I was born in (New Castle) Indiana... was raised in Oklahoma, went to West Point and was a Nieman Fellow at Harvard. I was a soldier in World War I, a war correspondent in World II and a reserve officer for many years."

"I am survived by my second wife, the former Frances Holmes of Manhattan (N. Y.), and one small, red-headed, beautiful daughter who was the apple of her daddy's eye. Her name is Laurel."

"I wrote this... because I know more about the subject than anyone else; and I'd rather have it honest and not flowery. I'm not entitled to much praise. I was just a fairly honest, well-meaning sort of guy."

"I want no flowers, mourning or elaborate funeral ceremony. I'm confident I'll off on the greatest adventure of my life. I'm now tackling the biggest assignment any newspaperman could have."

SEASON'S GREETINGS—The world's largest man-made Christmas tree, 100 feet high with a trunk of steel, this year features animation. Located on the grounds of General Electric's Nela Park in suburban Cleveland, Ohio, the giant tree is hooked up to an electro-mechanical cycling device and lights up in five sequences to provide the animation effect. Giant, lighted toys are scattered under the tree and more than 7,000 bulbs in bluish green and pink are strung over its huge frame. Nearby hundreds of lamps spell out a cordial Merry Christmas in greeting to the half million sightseers who annually visit the display.

Many Places Robbed But Loot Was Small

ELER, Mo. (AP)—Nine business places in this Macon County town were broken into between midnight and 1 a. m. today, but the highway patrol said only $18.10 was taken.

No merchandise was stolen. Entered were Spencer's Garage, Mock and Mathis grocery, Jopson Lumber Co., Petes Tavern, Herring cafe, Drake general merchandise store, Mobile service station, MFA store and Shell service station.

Tiny Town Is Cleaning Up After Storm

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—Shattered Cotton Belt began cleaning up today in the wake of a tornado which left two of its 100 residents dead and three others seriously injured.

The twister was one of three which struck Southern Arkansas yesterday.

Arkansas storms followed unseasonal tornadoes which left 13 dead and 250 injured in Missouri and Southern Illinois. Tornado winds and torrential rains wrought further damage in Illinois yesterday.

The Cotton Belt twister smashed five houses and damaged two others in the all-Negro community five miles north of here.

Stunned neighbors found the mangled body of Sarah Hardin, 83, in a field 100 yards from her demolished home. Christine Turner, 35, died on the way to a Magnolia hospital.

Three Cotton Belt residents were hospitalized at Magnolia. Minnie Bell Wilson, 11, was on the critical list. Mrs. Henryetta Zachery, about 40, and her daughter Rita, 18, were in fair condition.

A smaller tornado at nearby Stephens flattened an oil company field office, injuring three employees. A capricious twister skipped about the Sherrill community, 100 miles northeast of here, causing considerable property damage but no injuries.

The Sohio Oil Co. employees injured at Stephens were E. A. Roscoe, 64, who suffered serious chest injuries; W. B. Rames, 47, who had a broken leg; and Hugh Pickering, 27, who received painful cuts and bruises.

A fourth man, T. E. Williams, suffered a mild heart attack during the tornado.

The Sherrill funnel unroofed a house south of the community, skipped over the business district, took the roof off another dwelling south of town, and then smashed a cotton warehouse a few miles away.

Couple Robbed at Little Rock
NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Three men last night took $500 and a pistol from a North Little Rock couple at gunpoint. Detective Sgt. Mack Knight said Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Ferguson were forced to lie on the floor of the home while the robbers searched for money.

Challenge to NLR Law Is Delayed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Attorneys for the city of North Little Rock and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have agreed to postpone a challenge to a U. S. District court suit challenging a city ordinance.

The agreement came minutes before a hearing on the NAACP suit was scheduled to begin before Judge Roy W. Harper, yesterday. The contested ordinance requires the NAACP, and certain other organizations, to submit confidential information to city officials.

Mrs. Birdie Williams, president of the North Little Rock NAACP branch, surrendered to city police yesterday and posted $100 bond on a charge of violating the ordinance.

Opposing attorneys have agreed to allow state courts to establish constitutionality of the law. Mrs. Williams, and W. A. Fair, vice president of the North Little Rock chapter who was fined $25 two weeks ago for violating the ordinance, will provide the test cases.

Pair's appeal now is pending in Pulaski Circuit Court. Mrs. Williams' case is set for Tuesday morning in North Little Rock Municipal Court.

Mrs. Williams appeared at the police station after a warrant for her arrest was sworn out by Alderman Paul O. Duke. Duke also secured warrants for two other NAACP officers, Mrs. Louella Wilson and Mrs. Mazetta W. Powell, but he withdrew these after Mrs. Williams' surrender.

The agreement concerning the federal suit is similar to an agreement reached between NAACP attorneys and the city of Little Rock in an identical suit. One condition is that the cities will not prosecute the NAACP for daily violations of the ordinance until its validity has been established.

Arkadelphia Plant Names Supervisor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Roy B. Lewis of Arkadelphia, Ark., has been named employment supervisor of the new Tectum Corp. plant at Arkadelphia. Tectum president Murray D. Lincoln has announced.

The 38-year-old Lewis, a native of Arkansas, will assume his new duties after a brief training period at Tectum's Newark, Ohio, plant.

Lewis has been manager of the Employment Security Division office in Arkadelphia.

Dulles a Liar, Red Paper Screams
MOSCOW (AP)—The newspaper Soviet Russia today called Secretary of State Dulles a liar and writer of "dirty articles and cock and bull yarns."

The paper's lie was roused by an article written by Dulles for Life magazine in which Soviet Russia said Lenin was misquoted. It accused Dulles of crediting Lenin with the maxim: "A promise is like a crust of bread. It is made to be broken."

Certainly Lenin used the phrase, said the newspaper, but he was only quoting an old English saying.

PSC Franchise Tax Formula Is Going to Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A court test may be looming on the Arkansas Public Service Commission's establishment of a formula which determines the amount of franchise taxes Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. pays the cities it serves.

Four cities—Pine Bluff, Little Rock, Fort Smith and El Dorado—yesterday filed a motion for a rehearing on the matter.

Usually such a move precedes an appeal to the courts from a PSC order.

The commission ruled recently that franchise taxes levied on Southwestern Bell were discriminatory. It set up the formula and said any excess charges would have to be passed on to the telephone company's customers in a city.

Under the new formula, most of the cities served by Southwestern Bell could impose higher franchise taxes. But some would have to accept a cut—Little Rock, for example, would get $34,000 instead of $75,000.

The four cities said in the motion that the PSC lacked jurisdiction and also attacked the commission's order as unconstitutional on grounds that it fixed franchise rates for the cities involved.

In addition, the motion said provisions of the law which forbid discrimination apply only to rates and services and not to city taxes.

Probe Likely Bring Change in Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today a Senate probe of missile and satellite programs should result in a drastic overhaul of the Defense Department to "bring order out of chaos."

He said the top military command machinery "must be simplified and streamlined" to enable the nation to push ahead of Russia in the race for control of outer space and in development of long range missiles.

Criticism of the defense organization also was voiced by two other senators—Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and Barrett (R-Wyo.)—both members of the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee which has been investigating U. S. missile-satellite programs.

In a copyrighted story in today's editions, the Washington Post said it had learned the top-secret Galtier Report recommended, among other things, a "sweeping reorganization of the Pentagon command system and of the current roles and missions of the armed services."

The Post story added that the report—prepared by a board headed by H. Rowan Galtier Jr., former Ford Foundation president—pictured the nation as being "in the gravest danger in its history."

The White House has called the document highly classified, and as declined to comment on its contents. The report is based on a study made for the Office of Defense Mobilization and the National Security Council.

Mansfield, the assistant Democratic leader in the Senate, said in an interview he believes the preparedness subcommittee will develop "some responsible recommendations."

The subcommittee, headed by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), recessed its hearings last Tuesday for the holidays. It will resume work in early January.

Ark-La Offer of Gas Lights Not Legal
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Apparently the gaslight era will have to remain a nostalgic memory for the city of Little Rock.

A state expert on utility laws views as illegal a recent offer to install a citywide natural gas street lighting system at no cost. The expert said Stephens' offer violated a statute prohibiting utilities from granting preferential services or rates.

Sgt. G. Harris, administrative aide to Stephens, said yesterday that the interpretation is correct, the firm cannot carry out the offer.

Traffic Accidents May Kill 180

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents may kill 180 persons during the short Christmas holiday period, says the National Safety Council.

The council said if motorists are extra careful and considerate, the Christmas toll could be held close to a non-holiday level of 60 for the 30-hour holiday period.

"But if the extra holiday danger isn't met with extra care and consideration for others," the Council said, "the holiday toll of immediate deaths may reach 180."

The Council figures some 45 million persons will travel on the streets and highways during the holiday period from 8 p. m. Tuesday to midnight Wednesday.

Luke Probably Got Data From Mother Mary

Editor's Note: Were it not for the gospel of Luke, the world would not possess the powerfully moving words spoken between Mary and the messenger of the Lord at the Annunciation. There is reason to believe Luke received the information directly from Mary. Here is how the interview may have come about.

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
Only a mother knows the measure of that greatest drama: The bringing into the world of a new child.

No other could realize the yearnings, the anxieties and uncertainties, the tremendous joys and high dreams of bestowing life. No other but God.

So it was that the perceptive physician Luke, in his project to trace the genealogy of Jesus, turned his course toward Mary. He walked rapidly, with hope, it was about 20 miles from Nazareth to Capernaum, past undulating fields, vineyards and clusters of acacias and yew trees, Oxen-pulled carts, loaded with autumn's final crops, trundled along the road.

Luke glanced at the gray sky. Winter's rains soon would be starting. Smoke hung over the farm houses, and from within the rock pens came shouts, and the bleating of sheep getting a last shearing of the year.

Best Source
If Mary still lived, she would be in her 70s now. Almost 30 years before, her Son had made His tremendous sacrifice for man. Luke prayed silently. Grant that he might find her... he could reveal so much.

The road curved steadily downward, descending from the high, clear region of Nazareth, 1,000 feet in elevation, to the Galilee lake, 700 feet below sea level. Luke passed through Magdala and on beside the clear, murmurous lake.

Here, on these shores, the Lord of Lords had stood and preached, a commanding figure, serene as the sun, forceful as lightning. Luke's eyes were misty as he passed the seven fountains and entered the fishing town of Capernaum.

It was a gray town, built of somber gray basalt. Gray streets, gray walls, gray houses. Like shadows, strangely shaped and solidified, their grayness darkened by the overcast.

A woman with a basket of onions on her head directed Luke to the house of John. This hardy apostle, the youngest of Jesus' band, would be about 50, little older than Luke. At the crucifixion, he had taken Mary into his care.

The house seemed different than the others. It was built of the same gray stone, but there was a bright, pleasantness about it. A trellised power of roses and golden heliotrope and oleander bloomed behind the hedges.

There, in the courtyard, John "Peace be unto you." Luke moved through the gate, and after they had exchanged blessings, the Greek doctor explained his purpose. John nodded slowly, meditatively. He stepped to the door, and pulled aside the woven covering for Luke to enter.

Was Mary there? There is no proof that Luke talked with her, but indications that he did are many and persuasive. He alone obtained intimate material about Jesus' infancy.

His language, in his book, is typically Greek in style, except for portions devoted to Mary, which have a distinctive semitic flavor as if quoting her own words directly.

Moreover, Luke himself writes that no one but Mary had the information. "Mary kept all these things... in her heart." Presumably, he saw her, must have had that exclusively memorable interview.

The years had not aged her. The years had not aged her. Continued on Page Four

TOGETHER, APART—Still close, but not as close as they were a couple of years back, Fulbright, left, and Folkie De Vries, right, hand in hand down a street in the village of Bergum, The Netherlands. Hope Has Long Been a Symbol of Observances at Christmas

Christmas is right around the calendar corner, and appropriately enough, the two large words on this paper's banner are both symbolic of the joyous event we will celebrate.

Hope for the world has been present since the first Christmas in a humble stable of Bethlehem. It is God's gift to us, not only at this season, but every day of the year.

The Wise Men brought three gifts to the Holy Babe, but they also received three gifts from Him.

Faith
Hope
Love
The central gift, Hope, is a connecting link between the other two, and without it the chain is broken.

A star was the ideal choice for a guiding light to the scene of Christ's birth. Wherever we go we star in the sky, even when it is not visible to the human eye. The same is true of the Son of God.

Today, one of the most widely used symbols of Christmas is the star. It also stands for earthly achievement and abundant joy.

The name, Star, is used in speaking of a lending theatrical personality. And it is the perfect description of the sparkling light in the eyes of a happy child.

Looking toward Heaven with its millions of stars can always bring Hope to the hearts of the lost and renewed Faith to those who believe.

May that be your experience this Christmas and throughout the coming year.

Dulles Arrives for Talks With Gen. Franco

By LOUIS NEVIN
MADRID, Spain (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles arrived here today for a visit with Generalissimo Franco and other Spanish officials.

Dulles, on route home from the Paris NATO summit conference, landed at Torrejon, a new field built by the U. S. Air Force outside Madrid and is operated jointly with Spain.

Spanish informants said those were the reasons for the Spanish invitation to visit here:

1. Spain wants to start an offensive against the irregular Moroccan army of liberation which she claims invaded the Spanish colony of Ifni on Nov. 23 and won control of most of the enclave on the Moroccan coast. The Spaniards say the irregulars' main bases are in Morocco. Moroccan nationalists deny forces from Morocco attacked Ifni, and say the alleged invaders actually are Italian rebels. Spain wants American approval for an offensive.

2. Spain wants to counterbalance to some extent the recent state visit of King Mohammed V of Morocco to the United States.

3. Spain wants more financial assistance from the United States. She is experiencing an inflationary wave and at the same time is faced with an expensive military campaign in Ifni. The Spanish call the Moroccan irregulars Communist-slanted, part of a Soviet effort to infiltrate the African continent. NATO has just expressed its concern with such efforts.

Red Scientists Caution About Besting U. S.

By HAROLD K. MILKS
MOSCOW (AP)—Russia's top scientist warned the Soviet Union today against overestimating its scientific achievement.

"Great efforts are still needed to beat the United States on all scientific fronts," Alexander N. Nesmeyanov, chairman of the Soviet Academy of Science, told a session of the Supreme Soviet, Russia's Parliament.

Nesmeyanov's speech was in sharp contrast to previous boasts of Soviet scientific achievement. He appeared to be seeking greater appropriations for scientific development.

Plans to increase Soviet spending on scientific research by about 11 per cent next year to the equivalent of 4½ billion dollars were announced to the Supreme Soviet yesterday.

Nesmeyanov said this compared with an annual increase in the United States of 12 per cent.

(The U. S. National Science Foundation estimates that the United States, through government and industry, spends about five billion dollars a year on research, much of it on consumer products not developed in Russia.)

Nesmeyanov criticized useless expenditures in science and scientific equipment, too much duplication of work, and industry's practice of sometimes failing to produce needed equipment.

Three Brothtrs Die in Truck Accident
FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP)—Three brothers were killed early today when they were crushed between a truck and an automobile while fixing a flat tire on the Worcester Turnpike.

Dead were Joseph A. Russo, 22; Anthony Russo, 21; and Louis Russo, 38, all of East Boston.

Joseph was dead on arrival at Union Memorial Hospital. Anthony died a few minutes after arrival, and Louis died four hours after the accident.

Anthony and Louis had driven from East Boston to Framingham to help their brother after he called them that he had a flat tire on his light truck.

Samuel Green, 43, of Framingham, who suffered only minor injuries, was charged with manslaughter and driving to endanger in connection with the fatal accident.

Hempstead on Crop Disaster List
WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty-seven additional Arkansas counties have been designated as disaster areas because of heavy rain damage to crops.

The Agriculture Department's announcement yesterday raised to 52 the number of Arkansas counties so designated.

Latest on the list are these counties: Arkansas, Ashley, Calhoun, Chicot, Clark, Columbia, Crittenden, Dallas, Desha, Drew, Hempstead, Howard, Jackson, Jefferson, Lawrence, Lee, Lincoln, Monroe, Nevada, Ouachita, Prairie, Phillips, Randolph, St. Francis, Saline, Union and Woodruff.

Fulbright Long Credit for State Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Sen. James O. Eastland believe farmers in their states should get enough long range credit to take care of crop losses caused by ruinous rains.

The two senators yesterday told R. B. Toole, governor of the Farmers Credit Administration, that existing credit machinery is inadequate for the farmers and their creditors.

Fulbright, who is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, and Eastland favor resumption of the old Federal Mortgage Loan program or the Federal Land Bank Commissioner loan program.

Such a resumption would make available to farmers "second mortgage and chattel refinancing over a period of years to enable them to pay their 1957 debts," the senators said.

Fifty-two Arkansas counties and 50 Mississippi counties and some 40 Missouri and Tennessee have been declared disaster areas by the Agriculture Department.

The action makes farmers eligible for one-year, low interest production loans. But such loans require that they will not press farmers for payment of various operating debts.

Fulbright and Eastland told Toole they plan hearings next month on credit legislation.

Arkansan One of Two Killed in a Crash

WIND GAP, Pa. (AP)—Two veteran Navy pilots, one of them an Arkansan, were killed last night in the crash of a twin-engine plane into nearby Blue Mountain in dense fog.

They were Cmdr. Roy Dalton, 40, training officer at Willow Grove Naval Air Station near Philadelphia, and Lt. Cmdr. George Hardy Webster, 36, the station's aviation cadet procurement officer.

The plane crashed and exploded less than 200 feet from the mountain side in the Poconos foothills. Searchers who reached the scene more than an hour later said the wreckage was still burning.

A Navy spokesman said Dalton and Webster were returning to Willow Grove after an official trip to Washington. They had flown from Anconia near the capital.

A board of investigations was convened to determine the cause of the crash.

Dalton, whose hometown was Arkadelphia, Ark., lived at the station with his wife and three children. He had been in the Navy since 1942.

Webster, a Naval Academy graduate, lived at Doylestown, Pa. He had four children. His hometown was Northfield, Vt.

Muscle Man Refuses to Leave Jayne
PORT BRUCKNER, Okla. (AP)—Army protocol failed last night to get muscle man Mickey Hargitay from beside Jayne Mansfield.

Entertaining comedian Bob Hope's Christmas-touring troupe of Hollywoodites at dinner, the Army packed off military wives with male members of the troupe and vice versa.

Hargitay, whose "body beautiful" was his only claim to fame until he took up with the busty blonde, refused to take a colonel's lady into dinner, saying, "Somebody should have asked me first. I'm going with my fiancée."

In the dining room he switched placecards to put himself instead of Col. Lamar Ratliffe of Peach Orchard, Ark., beside Miss Mansfield. The actress had Vice Adm. Wallace Beakley, commander of the 7th Fleet, on her other side.

Major Rails Ask for Rate Hike

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—All major railroads today asked Interstate Commerce Commission authority to increase freight rates on a selective basis.

The proposed selective increases have not been disclosed, but it was reported they will average about 3 per cent. The carriers obtained a general rate increase of 15 per cent last Aug. 6.

The roads were reported to have the new rates ready for submission next Monday if their application is approved by ICC.

Princess Has Offer From Record Firm

LONDON (AP) — The Daily Herald said today Princess Margaret has received a request from an American record firm to be narrator on a record album of jazz.

The 27-year-old Margaret, who has just been made an honorary doctor of music by London University, is a jazz enthusiast and a talented pianist — with emphasis on modern musical moods.

The Herald said a proposal that she make recordings came from the Top Records Co. of New York which, it stated, is planning an all-nations record album of jazz.

It added part of the proposal is that royalties from sales would be paid to any charity nominated by Margaret. A Buckingham Palace spokesman declined to confirm that such an offer is being considered.

"But, of course, many communications go directly to the princess," he said. "It would be extremely unusual for any member of the royal family to make recordings on anything like a commercial basis. In fact, it has never been done."

DOROTHY DIX

Charm Overshadows Money Advantages

Dear Dorothy Dix: We have a number of extremely wealthy friends whose style of living is far cry from our modest income permits. These people seem to like us very much, yet when we ask them to our home, they never come. I'm sometimes tempted to borrow money and have out small house done in a modern decor. Do you think this would be a wise investment in view of the fact that we could then entertain these people in better style? JAN

Dear Jan: Quite evidently you and your husband are pleasant, talented attractive young people whom others like to have around. That is your payment for whatever hospitality your wealthy friends extend to you. Don't, under any circumstances, borrow money just to "keep up with the Jones." It will lower you in your friends' estimation, rather than raise you. Continue being your charming selves, and no one will care about your house — provided it is clean and tidy.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Although I'm only 16, I've led a wild and fast life. Now a man wants to marry me, knowing everything. He's willing to overlook my past, and claims there is so much good hidden within me that he'll be happy bringing it out. I want to get married and live a decent life — but cordings on anything like a commercial basis. In fact, it has never been done."

The Horned Toad Derby is held annually in Coalinga, Calif.

I married a charming widow to whom I am devoted. The only shadow on our lives is her constant chit-chat about her first husband. She makes me feel like an inferior, and that she cares nothing about me at all. How can I stop it? MARTIN

Dear Martin: Only a gag would be successful at stopping her flow of memory. A woman who has so little sense that she's constantly throwing her first husband in her second husband's face, is completely lacking in feeling for him. Even a moron would recognize the fact that a husband can be just as jealous of a man in the graveyard as he can about the man next door.

Dear Dorothy Dix: A year ago

Alabama Areas Also Damaged by Winds

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Tornadoes struck two communities in north and central Alabama last night and today, injuring seven persons and causing extensive damage.

Littleville, near Tusculum in extreme northwest Alabama, was hardest hit with the seven persons being injured there. Three houses were destroyed and other homes damaged, according to Mayor Frank Bullington.

The twister struck Littleville shortly after 11 p. m. and was followed three hours later by a second storm that roared through the Clanton area, causing extensive damage. No injuries were reported at Clanton.

My soul magnifies the Lord, and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior, for he has regarded the low estate of his handmaiden. For behold, henceforth all generations will call me blessed; for he who is mighty has done great things for me, and holy is his name.

And Mary said: "Behold, I am the handmaid of the Lord; let it be to me according to your word."

Luke's hand trembled as he marked down the wondrous passages. Mary told how, in her excitement, she had left Nazareth and hastened to the home of her elderly cousin, Elizabeth, in Judea, who had met with a jubilant, intuitive cry:

"Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb, mother of my Lord."

Mary, remembering the incident, spoke very low, and Luke leaned toward her to catch each word. She seemed to be experiencing anew the emotions she knew then, and again, low and sweet, came the singing tones—the reverent, thrilled rapture of a maiden opening her heart to her older kinswoman's salutation:

"My soul magnifies the Lord, and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior, for he has regarded the low estate of his handmaiden. For behold, henceforth all generations will call me blessed; for he who is mighty has done great things for me, and holy is his name."

He has put down the mighty from their thrones, and exalted those of low degree; he has brought down the proud, and lifted up the lowly; he has filled the hungry with good things, and sent the rich away empty.

transport at one with God, and Luke inscribed all the words — words that would be the great hymns of Christianity — the Ave Maria, the Magnificat, the Benedicta, the Gloria in Excelsis.

Many other things, too, Luke alone learned concerning Mary and the child she reared. She went into her curtained room and from a chest, inscribed with the heraldic lion of David she took scrolls and ancestral documents to show him.

Ancient church traditions say that Luke, an artist and musician as well, a physician, painted a picture of Mary during his stay at the garden-enclosed house in Capernaum.

There he had touched the well-known of the majestic moment, the hour of the birth of the Christ, the hour of the birth of the Christ.

But Luke's mission was not finished. He had yet to reconstruct that arduous, almost trip to Beth lehem, to the manger scene, to the birth of the Christ.

President Back in U.S. After Slight Delay

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower returned to Washington at 9:33 a. m. today after a week's trip to Paris where 15 NATO allies drafted a blueprint at 8:33 a. m. today after a in the missiles age.

Eisenhower's plane was delayed more than three hours by 80-mile headwinds.

It made refueling stops at Keflavik, Iceland, last night and at Hainan Air Force Base, Newfoundland, this morning.

A delegation of about 50 U.S. and foreign officials greeted Eisenhower on his arrival in a light drizzle.

Vice President Nixon led the American group at Washington National Airport. The delegation also included Christian A. Herter, undersecretary of state; Harold Stassen, disarmament aide; and George V. Allen, head of the U.S. Information Agency.

Eisenhower's plane, Columbine III, flew at a maximum altitude of 13,000 feet both ways across the Atlantic. The pressurized cabin was kept at the equivalent of sea-level pressure.

Eisenhower was smiling as he left the plane.

His first greeting was to Mrs. John S. Eisenhower, wife of the President's son and temporary aide.

Then he shook hands with Nixon and the other members of the welcoming group.

In spite of the drizzle, the President took one of his gray homburgs, turned around and called to the group: "Thank you very much."

Eisenhower got a warm sendoff in Paris, riding through 13 miles of waving, cheering throngs to reach his plane at Orly Field.

French President Rene Coty and other dignitaries saw him off.

Eisenhower, who suffered a mild stroke less than a month ago, appeared to have borne up well under the work-schedule he kept at the four-day North Atlantic Alliance summit conference.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen in Paris that Eisenhower's doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, reported "everything normal except that he still is under medical supervision and has not been medically discharged."

The 15-nation NATO conference agreed on plans to equip European bases with American 1,500-mile range missiles and nuclear warheads. This was linked with arrangements to keep the way open for fresh talks with Russia on disarmament, and perhaps other issues.

Summing up, NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium said:

"(1) The ill to defend ourselves; (2) The will to talk."

In a statement issued ahead of his departure, Eisenhower said he was "confident that the American people... will endorse and support the decisions made here."

In some respects, the President appeared to have his work cut out for him.

Eisenhower must go to Congress for authority to implement some of the pledges made at Paris.

And already there is grumbling among some congressional Democrats that the Paris meeting was inconclusive at best.

A 3,500-word communique, issued yesterday by the 15 government chiefs of the Atlantic Pact nations, made three major points: it deplored Soviet behavior, pledged to talk softly and carry a big stick, and declared NATO now had a "new significance" stretching worldwide in scientific and economic fields as well as the military.

It appeared to officials that Eisenhower's major difficulty would be in trying to get congressional approval for more money, greater sharing of atomic data, and lower trade barriers.

Eisenhower and his chief aide, Secretary of State Dulles, will have an opportunity Monday to lay their case before the American people. They are scheduled to make a half-hour report at 8:30 p. m. Monday over nationwide radio-television facilities of all the major networks.

Officials considered it unlikely however, that the President would divulge in much detail what he expects of Congress and the people.

Clara Barton retired as president of the United States branch of the Red Cross in 1904.
